Nicola O’Neill, ACCA

My name is Nicola O’Neill. I am a past student of Griffith College and advanced my career to my current role of Finance Director within the financial services sector. While at Griffith I studied ACCA and continued on to be a chartered certified accountant. My experience in finance spans a period of over 20 years.

From multinationals to SMEs and across various industries, FMCG, not-for-profit, manufacturing and financial services. I have gained vast experience in applying accounting principles into operations and procedures within the work place.

Understanding the IT systems we use as accountants is paramount to verification of figures and I have ensured this is the corner stone to all reporting.

Reviewing processes, integrating internal controls across departments, compliance, improvement initiatives are key aspects which I integrate into the role of finance.
